William L. Hines, MD, trusted Lasik surgeon in Denver, Colorado and eye doctor for the Denver Broncos, has recently performed Lasik on Cory Lichtensteiger, the up and coming Denver Broncos' offensive lineman. His uncorrected vision has improved to 20/15 without glasses or contact lenses from 20/400 without correction prior to the Lasik Surgery.

As a professional athlete Cory is accustomed to the best medical care available and selecting Dr. William Hines, the best and most trusted Lasik Surgeon in Denver, Colorado was easy. "My vision is awesome, but seeing my opponents this clearly takes some adjustment. The staff at Hines-Sight, Dr. Hines' office, was knowledgeable, professional and made me very comfortable. The Lasik surgery took only about 15 minutes for both eyes and there was no pain. I was able to drive myself into the office for the follow up appointment the next day and I could see great," states Lichtensteiger.

"Cory Lichtensteiger had been wearing contact lenses for many years and had noticed that they were not as comfortable as they used to be. He was encouraged to have Lasik surgery by other teammates who had had Lasik at Hines-Sight. He was examined thoroughly, including wave front analysis and topography, as are all patients seeking Lasik at Hines-Sight in Denver. He was found to be an excellent candidate. We felt certain that he would have a good outcome. At Hines-Sight each patient is treated like a professional athlete," relates Dr. Bill Hines.

As the team eye doctor of the Denver Broncos and Colorado Crush, Dr. Hines provides routine eye care, medical eye care, medical surgery and refractive surgery for Colorado football fan's favorite teams plus many other top athletes from around the country and abroad. In the world of professional sports, athletes trust their vision to only the best. For additional information, please contact Ann Hines at 303-777-3277 or visit www.hines-sight.com.
